

TONGJI INTERNATIONAL CONSTRUCTION FESTIVAL

theme MICRO COMMUNITY

activity At the designated time & place, students are required to self construct a temporary and spatial community and in the meantime spontaneously create a network community that crosses nation, region and cities through information collection.

Each team will receive the same materials for construction:

- 30 pieces of plastic polypropylene sheets
- 300 sets of nylon nodes
- Glove and goggle

Each plastic building should design a clear entrance facing the main street-to create frontage. Interior space of individual building is required to show “public” and “private” relationships. Building space, building structure and building enclosure should be integrated; a clear and logical relationship should be formed between its fundamental building blocks and overall structural form.
